Each student has an interactive remote that allows students to answer multiple choice or true/false questions by just the click of a button.

Beyond Question works by allowing every student to answer every question in an interactive yet confidential environment. Each student receives a remote with buttons that correspond to possible answers. With each question the teacher presents, each student presses the remote button that corresponds to his or her answer. These responses are received in real time, giving the teacher the immediate feedback needed to see which students grasp the material and which students might need a little extra help.

Beyond Question is committed to providing an affordable student response system to help educators; in fact, a set of our interactive remotes costs less than a set of textbooks.

In addition to our K-12 system, we also offer products tailored to the higher education and corporate communities. We will personally work with educators, administrators, and corporate professionals to select the Beyond Question package that best fits their needs.
